Thanksgiving Service—Miss Wilkins' Birthday Celebrated—Arctic Explorer to Speak at Watertown

Sunday night a good crowd gathered at the North Watertown Church for a All-the-people Thanksgiving Service. A young couple's choir of twenty voices furnished special music and led the congregational singing. Ralph Knight, state representative, read Washington's first Thanksgiving Proclamation and first Governor E. Ashley of Brunswick gave an interesting address on the "Character of Washington." The second half of the program was a very impressive worship service of hymns, responsive readings, and prayers, built around the thought of thanking God, mankind, home and night.

Last Friday evening a good crowd gathered at the Wilkins Community House to be entertained to celebrate the Birthday of Miss Wilkins in whose nativity the building was erected. A fine program of music and readings was given during the afternoon which was followed by a supper and evening together. This week brings a big All-Parish Young People's Social on Friday night at Waterford. At the last social of this kind the young folks of the Parish are invited to come at 7:30 p. m. and enjoy an evening of fun.

On Friday evening, December 21, the Rev. Mr. MacMillan, the Arctic explorer, will be at Waterford to show pictures of his travels and tell about them. A small charge will be made for the evening's program. Half of the money will go for the welfare work among the Eskimos and the other half to the Parish.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week a group of students from Yoho Divinity School and Harvard University, accompanied by Prof. MacGowan Dunn, will be in the United Parishes in Western Maine to study this type of religious work in rural communities. The bulk of the study will be done at the Sebago Regional Parish, but some of the students will probably be with us on Sunday and, we hope, will speak at some of our services.
